Dear Ms. Hannon:

This is in response to your Request for Additional Information dated April 22, 2013 concerning the Dan Roberti for Congress (?Committee?) committee?s Amended Year-End Report. Your letter raises concerns regarding the receipt of contributions designated for the general election, an election in which the candidate did not participate, and noted that any such contributions should be refunded.

In a telephone conversation with the Committee?s compliance consultant you indicated that there were four contributors who appear to have given to the general 2012 election but were not refunded their general election contributions. We have determined that of the four, three, due to clerical error, were improperly designated on the original report to the Commission. Amendments to the affected reports have been filed. In the fourth case it was determined that the contributor did indeed give to the general election but was not properly refunded. A refund check has been issued to the donor and will be reported on the Committee?s next regular filing with the Commission. We note that the Committee in all cases except this single instance refunded general election contributions in a timely manner consistent with the Commission rules and regulations. We regret this oversight.

Please be in touch with any additional questions or concerns on this matter. Thank you

Sincerely,

Dan McClutchy
Treasurer
